Instructor
Scott McCullough

Course Content and Objectives
This course treats the fundamentals of measure and integration theory, including $L^p$ spaces and the Radon-Nikodym theorem; and an introduction to functional analysis, including Banach spaces, Hilbert spaces, and the theory of linear operators. Other topics that may be included (depending on time and interest) are harmonic analysis and the Fourier transform, the theory of distributions, the spectral theorem, and an introduction to probability.

Suggested Problems
Selected problems from the text will be assigned on a daily basis.

Homework
Homework problems, selected to complement each student's interests and course of study, will be assigned, collected, and graded.

Exams
For those planning to take the PhD qualifying exam in analysis, there will be a midterm and final exam.

Midterm Exam. Friday 21 October.
Final Exam. Friday 16 December, 12:30-2:30 pm.

Grading
Course grades will be based on participation, homework, and exams. See the current UF policy on assigning grade points.

Attendance
Attendance is recommended.

Additional Information:
Grades.
Grading will be in accord with the UF policy stated at https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/inf/grades.aspx

Academic Honesty.
The course will be conducted in accordance with the University honor code and academic honesty policy, which can be found in the student guide

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities.
“Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8965, https://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.”

Online Evaluations.
“Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing online evaluations at https://evaluations.ufl.edu. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results/.”
